[ESTABLISHED 1852].

PUBLICATION OFFICE, FRANKLIN SQUARE (330 PEARL STREET), NEW YORK.

VOL. XLI., No. 8.

NEW YORK, February 20, 1892.

WHOLE No. 1047.

D. APPLETON & CO.'S NEW BOOKS.

SOCIAL STATICS.

By HERBERT SPENCER. New and revised edition, including "The Man versus the State," a series of essays on political tendencies heretofore published separately. 12mo, 420 pages, cloth, $2.00.

Having been much annoyed by the persistent quotation from the old edition of "Social Statics," in the face of repeated warnings, of views which he had abandoned and by the misquotation of others which he still holds, Mr. Spencer some ten years ago stopped the sale of the book in England and prohibited its translation. But the rapid spread of communistic theories gave new life to these misrepresentations; hence Mr. Spencer decided to delay no longer a statement of his mature opinions on the rights of individuals and the duty of the state.

MORAL TEACHINGS OF SCIENCE.

By ARABELLA B. BUCKLEY, author of "The Fairy-Land of Science," "Life and Her Children," etc. 12mo, cloth, 75 cents.

"The book is intended for readers who would not take up an elaborate philosophical work—those who, feeling puzzled and adrift in the present chaos of opinion, may welcome even a partial solution, from a scientific point of view, of the difficulties which oppress their minds."—From the Preface.

MANUAL OF CHEMICAL TECHNOLOGY.

By RUDOLF VON WAGNER, translated and edited by William Crookes, F.R.S., from the thirteenth enlarged German edition. With 596 illustrations. 8vo, cloth, $7.50.

The present English version differs so widely from that which appeared in 1872, that it may be regarded as substantially a new work. It is founded on the thirteenth German edition of 1888, brought out by Dr. Ferdinand Fischer, and remodelled in accordance with the many important changes which have been recently effected in chemical industry.

IT HAPPENED YESTERDAY.

By FREDERICK MARSHALL, author of "Claire Brandon," "French Home Life," etc. No. 88, Town and Country Library. 12mo, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

This story shows a subtle and admirable literary art; it is a story, in some respects, characteristic of "the end of the century," but one which, unlike many of the latter-day essays in what may be termed psychological fiction, succeeds in arresting and holding the reader's attention. In some respects the author shows a gain upon "Claire Brandon," which will be remembered as a work of admirable quality.

HOLLAND FICTION SERIES.

ELINE VERE.

By LOUIS COUPERUS. Translated from the Dutch by J. T. Grein. With an introduction by Edmund Gosse. 12mo, cloth, $1.00.

Eline Vere, a work crowned by the Dutch Academy, is a story of modern life in The Hague. It is the first novel in the Holland Fiction Series announced by D. Appleton & Co., a series which will present the choicest results of the modern literary revival in Holland.

In offering this series to American readers the publishers feel that they are opening a field of profit and enjoyment as distinctive and as fresh as the fields of Russian fiction and of Spanish fiction twelve years ago.

Ready Tuesday, March 1.

THE AUTHORIZED LIFE OF MR. SPURGEON.

"From the Usher's Desk to the Tabernacle Pulpit,

THE LIFE AND LABORS OF PASTOR C. H. SPURGEON."

By Rev. ROBERT SHINDLER.

With 5 Portraits of Mr. Spurgeon, Family Portraits, and about 60 other Illustrations—some full-page—including Mr Spurgeon's birth-place at Kelvedon, Essex; The Stockwell Orphanage; His Home and Study at Westwood; Mr. Spurgeon at Mentone, and other Illustrations of equal interest.

One Volume, 12mo, Cloth, $1.50.

MR. SPURGEON'S OWN REVIEW of "The New Life," written during his illness for the Sword and Trowel (of which he was Editor), says: "Our publisher thought that the time had come for a new 'Life' of the 'Editor.' The present volume is brought down to the date of publication, and its special merit is that it is as CORRECT A RECORD of 'The Life and Labors of Pastor Spurgeon' as could be made. Great pains have been taken to secure accuracy, and to make a history which would be thoroughly reliable. The numerous portraits, engravings, etc., give increased interest to the book. All our readers who wish to know what a friend can say of the 'Editor' and his surroundings should at once get this new 'Life.'"

NOTICE! THIS NEW AND COMPLETE LIFE OF MR. SPURGEON, WHICH WAS IN PRESS AT THE TIME OF HIS DEATH, HAS BEEN WITHHELD A FEW DAYS IN ORDER TO INCLUDE A COMPLETE ACCOUNT OF MR. SPURGEON'S LAST DAYS AND DEATH. BY ARRANGEMENT WITH HIS LONDON PUBLISHERS THIS BOOK WILL BE PUBLISHED IN ENGLAND AND AMERICA (PROTECTED BY COPYRIGHT) ON MARCH 1.

EARLY ORDERS SOLICITED.

MR. SPURGEON'S LATEST BOOKS.

I. THE SALT-CELLARS, PROVERBS AND QUAIN SAYINGS, Together with Homely Notes Thereon. A to L. Handsomely bound in 12mo, illuminated cloth, gilt side, $1.50. 3d thousand.

Second Series—A Companion Volume—M to Z. Bound uniform cloth with 1st series. $1.50.

"In these two volumes Mr. Spurgeon has furnished a large treasury of valuable illustrations. This volume, like the first, will be eagerly secured."—British Weekly.

II. THE CHEQUE BOOK OF THE BANK OF FAITH. Being Precious Promises arranged for daily use. With brief experimental comments. Nearly 400 pages, 12mo, cloth, gilt side, $1.50.

"When it is stated that this well-named book contains a Scripture Promise for Each Day in the Year, commented on, in his best vein, by the prince of practical and experimental preachers, enough has been said to commend it as first in its class."—N. Y. Christian Intelligencer.

"It is done in the great preacher's inimitable style, and speaks home on every page to the heart and need of the believer."—N. Y. Independent.

NOTES IN SEASON.

THE PRESBYTERIAN BOARD OF PUBLICATION have ready "The Man of Uz," by Prof. S. A. Martin, of Lincoln University, a great world-drama that will be found full of life and interest.

D. APPLETON & Co. have just ready a new and revised edition of "Social Statics," by Herbert Spencer, including "The Man versus the State;" "Moral Teachings of Science," by Arabella B. Buckley, intended for readers who would not take up an elaborate philosophical work; and a "Manual of Chemical Technology," by Randolph von Wagner, translated and edited by William Crookes. In the Town and Country Library the new story is "It Happened Yesterday," by Frederick Marshall; and "Eline Vere," by Louis Couperus, is the initial volume in the Holland Fiction Series.

A. C. ARMSTRONG & SON announce that Rev. Robert Shindler's "From the Usher's Desk to the Tabernacle Pulpit, the life and labors of Pastor C. H. Spurgeon" will be published simultaneously in England and America on March 1. The book was ready and had been reviewed by Mr. Spurgeon himself when the great preacher died, and it has been detained a few weeks for the sake of including a notice of his death and funeral. Messrs. Armstrong also are the publishers of Spurgeon's "The Salt Cellars," proverbs and quaint sayings arranged alphabetically in two volumes; and "The Cheque-Book on the Bank of Faith," precious promises arranged for daily use.

THE CASSELL PUBLISHING Co. have just ready "Across Thibet," a translation by C. P. Pitman of Gabriel Bonvalot's "De Paris au Tonking à Travers le Tibet Inconnu," with illustrations from photographs taken by Prince Henry of Orleans, who accompanied Bonvalot upon his last journey; "Recollections, Letters and Addresses," by Ernest Renan, likely to be the swan song of the great French thinker; "The Book of Pity and of Death," a volume of short stories, by Pierre Loti, translated by T. P. O'Connor; and "Rose and Ninette," by Alphonse Daudet, a story of the morals and manners of the day, into which the author has put some of his best work.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT Co. have just published a new edition of "Soule's Synonymes," revised and enlarged by George S. Howison, Mills Professor of Philosophy in the University of California; "Cigarette Papers," by Joseph Hatton, author of "By Order of the Czar," in which form Mr. Hatton gives reminiscences of Dickens, Reade, Collins, Sala, Mr. Toole, Mr. Irving, the editors of Punch, etc. "His Great Self," a novel of Virginia life many years ago, by Marion Harland, who is said to be at her best in this story of courtly manners and generous hospitality, and "Only Human, or, Justice," by John Strange Winter, a modern society story told with all the art of this popular novelist.

BRENTANO'S call the attention of the trade to the great fire sale of their entire stock removed from their old establishment at 5 Union Square, N. Y., after the fire of January 21. This sale will be held at the Jackson Building, 31 East 17th Street, and will begin about the 23d of February. It will include their stock of bound and paper-covered French books, and a splendid collection of German classics and popular authors in cloth bindings. Booksellers will find this a rare occasion for buying excellent stock at lowest prices. The sale is necessarily limited to a short time, and intending purchasers will do well to inspect stock at an early date. Brentano's specially solicit correspondence from out-of-town booksellers.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. will publish immediately the lectures in "The Evolution of Christianity," recently delivered at the Lowell Institute in Boston by Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, which have been carefully revised by Dr. Abbott for this publication in book-form; "Equatorial America," in which M. M. Ballou describes his travels to St. Thomas, Martinique, Barbadoes and the principal capitals of South America; "A Golden Gossip," Mrs. Whitney's new story; and "Roger Hunt," a new story by Celia P. Woolley, author of "Robert Armstrong" and "A Girl Graduate." This house will also shortly issue a new work by A. P. Sinnett, whose "Occult World" and "Esoteric Buddhism" secured so wide a reading. The new book will be named "The Rationale of Mesmerism."

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no price, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); (Q. 4to: under 30 cm.); O. (8vo: 25 cm.) D. (2mo: 20 cm.); S. (16mo: 17½ cm.); T. (24mo: 15 cm.); Tt. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Alexander, W., D.D. Leading ideas of the "Gospels." New ed., rev. and greatly enl. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 31-331 p. 12°, cl., $1.75.

Annual American catalogue, 1891: being the full titles, with descriptive notes, of all books recorded in the Publishers' Weekly, 1891, with author, title, and subject index, publishers' annual lists, and directory of publishers. [Second supplement to the American Catalogue, 1884-90.] N. Y., Office of the Publishers' Weekly, 1892. c. 18+212+144 p. O. hf. leath., $3.50.

During 1891 the "Weekly Record" was kept in type, and this catalogue has therefore been corrected more accurately than was possible with the processes tried in former years. In 1886 the lists were cut up, pasted and photographed on plates for printing. In 1887 and 1888 each separate title was electrotyped and nailed on blocks for printing. In 1889 and 1890 the pasting was tried again, but was abandoned because it was found that the catalogue was always belated by the uncertainty of weather during the manufacture of plates. The index, giving titles under authors, titles and subjects, and referring to the number of P. W. in which the book was entered, is a valuable part of the catalogue.

Augsburg, D. R. Drawing simplified: a text-book of form, study and drawing: for general use in schools, and for self-instruction. Bost., Educational Pub. Co., [1892.] c. '91. 213 p. il. sq. D. cl., $1.

Divided into two books. (1) A regular and complete course in representative drawing adapted to pupils from ten to twelve years. (2) For the general instruction of teachers in the kindergarten and primary grades. Author is Supervisor of Drawing in Public Schools, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Ayers, Nelson. Adventures of an evangelist: a circumstantial narrative of commonplace events. Chic., Laird & Lee, 1892. c. 3-274 p. D. (Library of choice fiction, no. 39.) pap., 50 c.

The scene is Texas. The action of Blowman and Smith is a faithful portrait of the methods employed by the average revivalist; in it there is evident purpose.

Ballantine, W: G. Ezekiel: a literary study of his prophecy. N. Y. and Chic., Fleming H. Revell Co., [1892.] c. 32 p. S. pap., 15 c.

Ezekiel was the prophet of Judah's renaissance as Jeremiah was the prophet of her decline and fall. He specially emphasizes five themes: God's majesty, Israel's apostasy and chastisement, The judgments to come on heathen nations, Israel's restoration, and The final consummation of the kingdom of peace. His place among the sacred writers "is like that of Bach among musicians, or of Chaucer among poets."

Ballantine, W: G. Jeremiah: a character study. N. Y. and Chic., Fleming H. Revell Co., [1892.] c. 32 p. S. pap., 15 c.

The President of Oberlin College considers Jeremiah the most misunderstood of all the great men of history. He shows that neither Moses, nor Joshua, nor Samuel, nor Elijah, nor Paul was ever subjected to a tithe of what Jeremiah endured. He was an ardent patriot, whose clearly appointed duty it was to discourage national hopes and counsel submission to a foreign foe. His unselfish grief made him one of the grandest characters of history.

Bancroft, Hubert Howe. Chronicles of the builders of the commonwealth: historical character study. V. 6. San Francisco, Cal., The History Co., [N. Y., Frank M. Derby, 149 Church st.,] 1892. c. '91. 11+643 p. pors. O. cl., $4.50; leath., $5.50; hf. cf., hf. rus. or hf. mor., $8; rus., mor. or tree cf., $10.

Presents in outline the history of surveys, routes and transportation from the aboriginal and pastoral era of the Pacific coast, when here and there an Indian trail or rough wagon-road relieved the solitude of wilderness primeval, until, in 1890, fine overland railroads bore to and fro their twenty millions of passengers and their thirty million tons of freight. This phase of the growth of the commonwealth has been in the hands of Charles Crocker, George H. Sisson, Josiah Failing, Henry Failing, James Steel, Donald Mackay, Adolph G. Russ, Joseph P. Hale, George H. Bonebrake, Albert Miller, Joseph Emeric, Orville D. Baldwin, Chauncey H. Phillips, Jerome B. Wheeler, etc.

Bible. New Testament. Our Lord's life: a continuous narrative in the words of the four "Gospels," according to the common version; arr. by Ja. Strong. N. Y., Hunt & Eaton, 1892. 35+218 p. S. cl., 45 c.

Substantially a condensation of the text of the author's "Harmony of the Gospels," published in 1852.

Bloomington, J. S. Annual digest of insurance decisions, being an abridgment of all the opinions handed down by the supreme, circuit and district courts of the United States, and the courts of last resort in all the states of the union, embracing the essential points of both law and fact, of fire, marine, life, accident, fidelity and other branches of insurance and assessment, [etc.,] together with a table of abbreviations; table of cases reported, [etc.,] 1889-90. V. 2. Chic., The Investigator, 1890. c. '91. 32+7-339 p. O. shp., $4.

Bonvalot, Gabriel. Across Thibet: a translation of "De Paris au Tonking à travers le Tibet inconnu," by C. B. Pitman; il., from photographs, by Prince Henry of Orleans. N. Y., Cassell Pub. Co., [1892.] c. 13+417 p. por. O. cl., $3.50.

The writer of "Through the Heart of Asia" left Paris in July, 1889, with Prince Henry of Orleans and Father Dedeken, to explore a section of country which, by its inaccessibility, has long discouraged foreign interference—the encroachments of the surveyor, the trader, the missionary and the soldier. The report is a history of the fearful cold and misery of a mid-winter journey across several thousand miles of mountainous deserts, over fifteen thousand feet in height.

Commonwealth." N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 9-298 p. 8°, cl., $1.

Burton, Mina E. Ruling the planets: a novel. N. Y., Harper, 1892. 360 p. D. (Harper's Franklin sq. lib., new series, no. 717.) pap., 50 c.

A young English banking clerk, out on a short holiday, is suddenly seized by a physician and implored to represent for a few days a patient who had just died, the object being to secure his money to his family in proper legal form, which would require at least a week. The complications arising out of his great likeness to the dead man in body, and his strong points of difference in many mental and moral characteristics, make a most readable story. The chief actors come to the conclusion that even with the best motives it is best to leave ruling the planets to a higher skill.

Carter, Franklin. Mark Hopkins. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1892. c. 11+365 p. D. (American religious leaders.) cl., $1.25.

Mark Hopkins, born in 1802, belonged among the later religious leaders of New England. There is a lack of material for a complete estimate of him as a man. His biographer was his pupil, and is now his successor as President of Williams College, which position Dr. Hopkins held for thirty-six years. For thirty years also he was President of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. A chronological table of the principal dates in Dr. Hopkins' life opens the volume, and a list of ninety of his published writings concludes it.

Charlesworth, Mrs. M. L. The ministering children. 2d series. N. Y., Hunt & Eaton, 1891 [1892.] 6-784 p. il. D. (Blind basket-maker's lib.) cl., $1.

Nurse Brame; The blind basket-maker; Charley and Edith; Little Sue and her friends, in one volume. Published separately in a four-volume edition under same title in 1867.

*Church, R. W. Oxford movement, twelve years? 1833-1845. New ed. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 15-416 p. 12°, cl., $1.50.

*Clark, D. Kinnear. Mechanical engineer's pocket-book: tables, formulæ, rules and data: a handy book of reference for daily use in engineering practice. N. Y., D. Van Nostrand Co., 1892. 656 p. D. flex. mor., $3.

Clark, F. C. State railroad commissions and how they may be made effective. [Balt., Md.,] American Economic Assoc., 1891 [1892.] c. '91. 8+110+5 p. O. (Publications of the American Economic Assoc., v. 6, no. 6.) pap., 75 c.

Author is Instructor in History and Political Economy, Ann Arbor High School. This paper divides itself into two parts: (1) The history of the growth and development of the commission system; (2) A discussion of the steps necessary to secure greater efficiency in the commission system.

Collins, Clinton. All poetry: a selection of English verse. Cin., O., [The Traddles Co.,] 1892. c. '91. 3-107 p. D. leatherette, 70 c. Forty-seven well-known poems by celebrated English and American authors.

Couperus, L. Eline Vere, from the Dutch, by J. T. Grein; introd. by Edmund Gosse. N. Y., Appleton, 1892. c. 10+312 p. D. (Holland fiction ser., no. 1.) cl., $1.

With this novel of domestic life at the Hague the publishers begin a series of fiction, written by a number of young writers who have repudiated the rather sleepy Dutch authorship of the last forty years and formed a new school of which the peculiar quality is known among them as sensitivism. Louis Couperus was born in 1863. He has made teaching his profession, but now devotes most of his time to literature. Eline Vere is a thoroughly uncontrolled nature whose surroundings bring out her worst faults. Her emotions lead her finally to do a very uncalled-for act.

Craven, Mme. Pauline. Fleurance. N. Y., G: Munro, [United States Book Co., 1892.] 291 p. D. (Seaside lib., no. 1917.) pap., 25 c.

Crosby, Oscar T., and Bell, L. The electric railway in theory and practice. N. Y., W. J. Johnston Co., 1892. c. 400 p. 8°, cl., $2.50.

Describes and illustrates the best methods of installing and operating plants for electric railways, with figures in detail for outlay. Many of the data are of value for other electric practice than that of railways. The receipts and expenditures of the West End Co., of Boston, which has both horse and electric service, are presented in a comparative table. Mr. Crosby, in 1890, conducted experiments at Laurel, Md., with electric motors at speeds as high as 115 miles an hour. He states his conclusions as to the availability of the electric motor as a rival to the steam locomotive. A book for the investor, the station superintendent, the reader desirous of ascertaining the latest achievements in electric traction.

Daudet, Alphonse. Rose and Ninette: a story of the morals and manners of the day; tr. by Mary J. Serrano. N. Y., Cassell Pub. Co., [1892.] c. 2+274 p. D. (Cassell's sunshine ser., no. 100, extra.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

With the evident motive of showing divorce as a failure, that it at most gives temporal relief, sometimes mistaken, in the first moments of release, for happiness, and that it does not effectually dissolve marriage, the author creates his characters. Regis de Fagan, dramatist, recognizes that his wife and self are incompatible. They agree on a plan by which they can obtain divorce. In the consequences of this act "Rose and Ninette," a Wagnerian devotee, and the ex-wife have prominent parts. The hero's characteristics are in some respects those of Balzac's "Père Goriot."

*Davidson, Randall T.; D.D., and Benham, W. Life of Archibald Campbell Tait, Archbishop of Canterbury. [New cheaper ed.] N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 2 v., 12°, cl., $4.

Drummond, H. Baxter's second innings: specially reported for the — school team. N. Y., Ja. Pott & Co., 1892. c. '91. 4-60 p. nar. D. cl., 75 c.

A book for boys. While Baxter is lying sick, after being hurt at cricket, he is visited by the captain of his eleven, a brilliant cricket-player, and the best man in the county. He points out to the boy how the points to be observed at cricket answer to the points to be watched in life. A charming allegory.

General history of the music trades of America. N. Y., Bill & Bill, 1891 [1892.] c. '91. 6-130 p. il. F. cl., $3.

Records of a series of industries which have within a few decades been marvellously developed in America. Contains names of many noteworthy persons, which have been divided for reference into (1) manufacturers, (2) supply trade, (3) dealers, (4) managers, travellers and salesmen. There are many views of factories and interiors, and engravings of musical instruments and patented improvements.

Gibbon, C. Amoret: a romance. N. Y., G. Munro, [United States Book Co., 1892.] 177 p. D. (Seaside lib., no. 1913.) pap., 25 c.

Gissing, G. Denzil Quarrier. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. c. '91. 3+308 p. D. (Macmillan's dollar novel ser.) cl., $1.

Before Denzil Quarrier met Lillian Allen he had strictly observed the requirements of society, because circumstance and impulse had favored such a condition. After their meeting, he thought he saw reasons why he should transgress the laws of both society and morality, so put his plan into immediate action. While he lived quietly, the public did not concern itself with his individual life; but when he was brought into prominence, through politics, he realized by experience the necessity of social law.

Abridgment of larger work (see notice, "Weekly Record," P. W., Oct. 11, 1890 [976]), to make it more directly available for class-room use. All polemical and historical matter, all metaphysical discussions and speculative matter, most of the quotations and all of the book references are omitted. Brief chapters are added on the various senses. About two-fifths of the volume is new or rewritten.

Jerrold, Walt. Michael Faraday: man of science. N. Y. and Chic., Fleming H. Revell Co., [1892.] 4-160 p. por. il. D. (World's benefactor ser.) cl., 75 c.

This leading philosopher, electrician and chemist was born in 1791. His father was a blacksmith. Young Faraday became bookbinder and stationer. Sir Humphrey David's lectures first started him on his scientific career. He died in 1867. The story of his life is here attractively told in simple language.

Jókai, Maurus. The nameless castle; from the German, by M. Dassel. St. Paul, Minn., The Price-McGill Co., 1891 [1892.] c. '91. 350 p. D. (Idle moment ser., no. 12.) pap., 50 c.

In the Nameless Castle dwell a soldier and a veiled lady who remain mysteries for many years. There is an undercurrent of history. The Hungarian insurrection and Napoleon's Austrian campaigns are brought in. A celebrated French female spy finally solves the mystery of the castle and loses her heart to its master. The veiled lady with her cats and dogs is a most charming little personage.

Kerr, Alvah Milton. An honest lawyer: a novel. Chic., F. J. Schulte & Co., [1892.] c. 4-312 p. D. (Ariel lib., no. 10.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

The author strives to show that men bury principle and lose sight of motive in a ceaseless effort to obtain wealth. He solves in the life of a young lawyer at once a social and religious question. The theory on which the book is based is that unlimited wealth is inconsistent with Christ's teachings, and that those who possess it are unchristlike. The story occurs in the West.

Hence the education and surroundings of Rose Minturn. A novel thoroughly healthy in scene, incident and character.

Le Sage, Alain René. The merry bachelor; photogravure il. by R. de Los Rios and others. N. Y., Worthington Co., 1892. c. 2+455 p. D. cl., $1.50.

By means of the adventures of Vanillo Gonzales, Le Sage attacks the follies and foibles of his day. This is accomplished as it was in "Gil Blas." The hero lives under several conditions of failure and success, and plies numerous trades and professions. The illustrations are characteristic.

Locke, J. The philosophy of Locke in extracts from The essay concerning human understanding; arr. with introd. notes, by J. E. Russell. N. Y., H. Holt & Co., 1891 [1892.] c. '91. 4+160 p. D. (Series of modern philosophers, no. 1, ed. by E. Hershey Sneath.) cl., $1.

The first of a Series of Modern Philosophers to be published under the editorial supervision of E. Hershey Sneath, of Yale University, for the purpose of presenting the substance of the representative systems of modern philosophy in selections from original works. Each volume is to be prefaced by a short biographical sketch of the author, a statement of the historical position of the system, a brief exposition of the system, and a bibliography. The compiler of this volume is Mark Hopkins Professor of Philosophy in Williams College.

MacGregor, Annie Lyndsay. Bound, not blessed. N. Y., G. W. Dillingham, 1892. c. 4-236 p. D. pap., 50 c.

Ethel Cadwallader, of good old Philadelphia stock, marries Jack Lynch, a self-made man, pushing and arrogant, with decidedly fast tastes. Their unhappy life makes a story of which the scene shifts constantly.

Marnell, Garnett. Merit versus money. N. Y., G. Munro, [United States Book Co., 1892.] 124 p. D. (Seaside lib., no. 1915.) pap., 25 c.

Medini, F. Roena. Edalaine: a metrical romance. N. Y., G. W. Dillingham, 1892. c. '91. 5-254 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Edalaine is the seventh child of parents whose home happiness is sung throughout the volume. This couple joined the Fourierites, but left when they found how far short of the ideal plan was the actual working of the society. Edalaine and Elizabeth love the same man, and the song pictures how this love influenced their lives and formed their characters.

Miley, J., D.D. Systematic theology. V. 1. N. Y., Hunt & Eaton, 1892. c. 16+533 p. O. (Library of Biblical and theological literature, ed. by G. R. Crooks and J. F. Hurst, v. 5.) cl., $3.

The author is Professor of Systematic Theology in Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J. His work will be completed in two volumes. In defining the scope of his book he says: "The several forms of theology must be distinguished and defined. The true sources of theology must be determined and mistaken sources set aside. The proofs of the divine origin of the Scriptures must be fully recognized. Attention must be given to the grounds of certitude in doctrinal truths, and to the consistency of faith with the requisite certitude, that we may secure a scientific construction of theology. The method of systematization must be considered in order to determine what doctrines should be included and in what order they should be treated."

Mill, Hugh Rob. The realm of nature; an outline of physiography. N. Y., C. Scribner's Sons, 1892. c. 13+366 p. il. map, D. (University extension manual.) cl., $1.50.

Treats of the place of physical science in the sphere of human knowledge, and shows the relations to each other of the various special sciences. The larger part is devoted to an outline description of the facts regarding "the structure of the universe, the form, material and processes of the earth, and the relations which they bear to life in its varied phases." The nineteen maps are specially compiled by J. G. Bartholomew, the eminent cartographer. The work has been reviewed with reference to the use of American students by Prof. N. S. Shaler, of Harvard University, who has supplied occasional illustrations from the point of view of the American physiographer. Full index.

Pollard, Eliza F. Florence Nightingale: the wounded soldier's friend. N. Y. and Chic., Fleming H. Revell Co., [1892.] 4-160 p. il. D. (World's benefactors ser.) cl., 75 c.

Florence Nightingale was born in 1820, and is still actively engaged in the "Nightingale Home," the training-school for nurses which she has established in connection with St. Thomas' Hospital, London. Gives the history of her useful life in simple style.

Potter, Bp. H. C. The mission and commission of the episcopate: a sermon preached at the consecration of Phillips Brooks, D.D. N. Y., E. P. Dutton & Co., 1892. c. '91. 27 p. D. pap., 10 c.

The Rev. Phillips Brooks, Rector of Trinity Church, Boston, was consecrated Bishop of Massachusetts on October 14, 1891. There had been much discussion among the different parties in the Church before he was finally elected Bishop, and the keynote of Bishop Potter's sermon is true liberality and toleration.

Praeger, Ferdinand. Wagner as I knew him. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1892. c. 23+334 p. D. cl., $1.50.

For half a century the writer and Wagner were intimate friends. He feels he is one to speak with authority on Richard Wagner, the man, the artist, his mental workings, and the doctrine he strove to preach. He does not vindicate Wagner in all things. He acknowledges his inconsistencies, but thinks that when seen in his true character "many a hostile, unsparing criticism, begotten of malice or inadequate knowledge, will shrivel and crumble away." He considers Wagner "the greatest art personality of this century—unequaled as a musician, great as a poet as regards the matter, moral, and mode of expression, whilst in dramatic construction a very Shakespeare."

Quevedo, Walt. C. The truth about G. Washington and deceased historical persons and things. N. Y., G. W. Dillingham, 1889 [1892.] c. '89. 3-26 p. il. S. pap., 10 c.

A little collection of farcical poems, hitting at national foibles.

Rénan, Ernest. Recollections and letters; from the French, by Isabel F. Hapgood. N. Y., Cassell Pub. Co., 1892. c. 25+327 p. D. cl., $1.50.

This volume completes Rénan's "Souvenirs," and forms an essential part of his lifework, since it explains the origin and foundation of his judgments. He says: "I was brought up by women and by priests; therein lies the whole explanation of my good qualities and my defects." The preface gives a clear statement of Rénan's beliefs, and shows his hopeful sympathy with the people of his time and the races yet unborn. In this preface he pays a touching tribute to Calmann Lévy, his publisher and friend, at whose request this book was written.

Rouse, Lydia L. Ebb and flow. N. Y., Hunt & Eaton, 1892. c. 329 p. D. cl., 90 c.

The moral is that joy and sorrow alternate in life as constantly as the "ebb and flow" of the tide. The story is of Jessie Laidlaw's early orphanage, her childhood at Grandfather Kenyon's, her courtship and marriage, and the sorrows and joys incidental to an eventful life. The scene is Scotland.

Royce, Josiah. Spirit of the modern philosophy: an essay in the form of four lectures. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1892. c. 16+519 p. O. cl., $2.50.

Contains, in revised form, a series of lectures on representative modern thinkers and problems, with suggestion of the author's own philosophical views. These lectures were given in Boston, New York and Cambridge, and two of them were printed in the Atlantic Monthly. Dr. Royce discusses the views held by Spinoza, Kant, Fichte, Hegel and Schopenhauer; the doctrine of evolution, the outer and inner worlds, and their meanings, natural law, freedom, optimism, pessimism and moral order. A book of unusual range and grasp of thought intended for all intelligent readers.

Ruskin, J. The eagle's nest: ten lectures on the relation of natural science to art, given before the University of Oxford in Lent term, 1872; introd. by C. Eliot Norton. Brantwood ed. N. Y., C. E. Merrill & Co., 1891 [1892.] c. '91. 20+260 p. D. cl., $1.50.

Saint-Amand, Imbert de. The youth of the Duchess of Angoulême; tr. by Eliz. Gilbert Martin. N. Y., C. Scribner's Sons, 1892.

c. 6+316 p. por. D. (Famous women of the French court.) cl., $1.25.

The daughter of Louis XVI., though always austere, is shown to have been full of generous aspirations and patriotic sentiments. Her heroism was grave and religious; she was like a saint. She personified the sorrows and catastrophes of royalty at the beginning of the Restoration. This volume opens in the Prison of the Temple on the day when Marie Antoinette, leaving her daughter behind her, departed to the Conciergerie; it ends the tale at Goritz, in the chapel of the Franciscans, on the day when the Count of Chambord, buried by the side of Charles X. and the Duke and Duchesse of Angoulême, bore the white flag like a shroud into his tomb. The ideas, hatreds and prejudices of the Restoration are clearly detailed.

Stanton, E., (pseud.) Dreams of the dead. Bost., Lee & Shepard, 1892. c. 3-268 p. D. (Good company ser., no. 15.) pap., 15 c.

According to the author the dead dream, and these visions take astral form. It is also permitted the living soul to take astral flight. Hence the novel is based upon the hero's visitation to spiritual realms. His experiences are varied and weird, and cover phenomena of psychology, mind-reading and hypnotism. Life and death are viewed in a new light in this novel.

Thompson, Maurice. Poems. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1892. c. 7+216 p. D. cl., $1.50.

About seventy-five poems full of the imagination, fancy and lyrical quality of the best poetry. Mr. Thompson has selected the best of his "Songs of fair weather" for this volume and added many new poems of great beauty of thought and literary finish. Exquisitely printed, with wide margins.

Tibbets, G. Parsons. College requirements in algebra: a final review. Bost., Ginn & Co., 1892. 3-80 p. D. cl., 55 c.

The compiler is instructor in mathematics, Williston Seminary, Easthampton, Mass. From a wide collection of college papers about four hundred examples, illustrating nearly every principle in algebra, have been selected and arranged by subjects. When a suitable problem could not be found, an original problem, or one from foreign texts, has been inserted. College cand i dates may be assured of entering if they perform all the examples without aid.

Udike, J. V. Udike's sermons: a series of sermons delivered in the Christian Tabernacle at Emporia, Kansas; ed. by G. F. Hall. Cin., O., The Standard Pub. Co., 1891[1892.] c. 2-288 p. por. O. cl., $1.50.

Editor claims that in less than seventy-five years the Disciples of Christ have jumped from a mere handful to a membership by nearly a million. Ten sermons by one of their most earnest preachers are given, and a biographical sketch by the editor. Udike was born in Celina, Ohio, in 1850. He began his work in his twentieth year. In connection with Brother Hawes, "the sweet singer," he has done very successful revival work, especially in Missouri.

Warren, Cornelia. Miss Wilton. Bost., Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1892. c. 2+583 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Miss Wilton, an American girl, was educated in Europe, travelled extensively with a faithful maid, then returned to America and took up her abode in various boarding-places, where she met many interesting fellow-beings. Millionaires, match-makers, manly and unmanly men, and women "nobly planned" and those less so, play their various parts in shaping her life. There are many good thoughts on a practical working religion suited to the needs of active, go-ahead, intelligent human beings worked into the story that shapes Miss Wilton into a noble woman.

Jack Broughton's extravagance led to dishonesty and arrest. When his wife learned of his disgrace, she appealed to Lord Esseldine to spare Broughton, but the latter was insulting in his refusal to help the erring man. Years after he retracted his harsh words, but Mrs. Broughton showed she was human in her action in reference to this. The scene is English and American. The novel ends romantically.

"This essay originally appeared in the Preussische Jahrbücher for January, 1887. A remarkable paper, which treats of the known facts of ecclesiastical history and gives a graphic description of the successive groups of Irish missionary monks, their labors in France, Italy, Switzerland and Germany, their strength and their weakness. Nowhere else will the reader find so concise and trustworthy a statement of what the Irish accomplished for the early Middle Ages."—The Nation. Copious foot-notes and full index.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

FEBRUARY 20, 1892.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or our advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the WEEKLY solely for their information. The next important reason is that the Record of New Publications of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY forms the basis of "The American Catalogue" and so the basis of all trade bibliography in the United States.

"Every man is a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help thereunto."—LORD BACON.

AS TO DISCOUNTS AND COLLECTIONS.

We doubt whether retailers generally give the matter of discounting their bills the attention which it deserves, and yet it is regarded by some of the shrewdest merchants as a principal element of success. In fact, they lay stress upon the practice as inculcating economy in store and living expenses. Regarding such a policy as imperative, they live economically, apply themselves strictly to every branch of their business, and keep at it early and late. Their claim is that the extra discounts which prompt cash payments secure, are in themselves good profit. However small a business a retailer may do, the one or two or two and a half per cent. he may save by such a course will be a clear gain, which in ten years will form a capital in itself. It has been pointed out that a man doing a retail trade of $30,000 per year, and saving 2½ per cent. on purchases, gains about $750, or adds to capital in ten years, as the result of a wise policy in buying, nearly $10,000.

Another illustration of this principle is given by a dealer who made a careful study of the subject for years, and who claims that his firm makes about $1200 a year by the practice.

"A common discount given by certain manufacturers," says he, "is six per cent. off ten days, or five per cent. off thirty days, a difference of one per cent. a year on the average monthly bill. If it be known by experience that the retailer pays promptly ten days from date of bill, which at far points is equivalent to receipt of goods, he is practically a spot-cash customer, and can secure all of the advantages of discounts and low prices that can be given.

"Take the case of a dealer doing a business of $16,000 or $17,000 yearly, whose monthly bills will be about $1000. As his own prompt payments will not affect his collections he will have to employ say $1000 more capital in availing himself of the additional one per cent. discount for twenty days' time.

"One per cent. on $1000 for twenty days would be eighteen per cent. a year, but as he could not expect to have the $1000 employed in covering such discounts for more than three-fourths of the time, owing to the fact that his bills will not become due exactly at equal intervals throughout the year, the saving will be thirteen and one-half per cent. on $1000. Deduct from that the loaning value of the money, say six per cent., and the per cent. remaining is seven and one-half.

"Conservative opinion is that such quicker payments would benefit the dealer's purchases at least one per cent. (some manufacturers put it higher), which on $1000 a month would amount to $120 a year, equal to twelve per cent., which would make the total saving about fifty per cent. a year on the $1000 of additional capital employed."

Whatever the discount allowed for cash, it is safe to figure that the amount saved by the believer in cash discounts often amounts to more than the year's addition to those who buy on credit. It may mean a struggle at first and sacrifices, but it will require only a few years of what might be called probationary work to make such a man independent.

Hand-in-hand with this practice goes the system of keeping accounts collected. It should be made an invariable rule to present accounts regularly every month, and a point should be made to secure a promise of payment at a certain date, or at least a checking up of the account. This method will obviate much trouble in collecting the bill later on, and will be found worth all the time taken. What to do in the case of bills that have been running for six months or longer, without any plausible excuse for non-payment, must always depend very much upon the known reliability of the customer. There are numberless persons who, though perfectly secure for any amount they may incur, are dilatory and exasperatingly slow in paying. But there are as many more who are not quite so trustworthy. The accounts of these might be turned over to a reliable attorney or agency for collection. This will probably cost less and bring quicker returns than one's own collector could make. When in doubt, don't trust, because in this case it would be better to reverse the old saw, and consider it better to cry over the goods than after them.

THE Senate has passed the Public Document bill, 41 to 6, and it now goes again to the House. It is, on the whole, a remarkably excellent measure, and we trust the bookselling profession will uphold it by promptly writing to their respective Representatives in favor of its passage.

THE PUBLIC DOCUMENT BILL.

THE bill of Senator Manderson (S. 1549) "Providing for the Public Printing and binding and the distribution of public documents" passed the Senate, Monday, Feb. 15, by the creditable vote of 41 to 6. A number of amendments had been made in the bill, chiefly in the direction of freeing Congressmen from any obligation to use the office of the superintendent of documents for their distribution if they should not wish to, or in that of extending the documents to be distributed to libraries so as to cover statutes, etc. The chief amendments are shown below:

SEC. 59. Add: "And of all publications of the Executive Departments made for distribution, five hundred copies shall be at once delivered to the superintendent of documents for distribution to designated depositories and State and Territorial libraries."

SEC. 62. To read, at close: "Excepting those printed for the special official use of the Executive Departments, which shall be delivered to said departments, and those printed for the use of the two Houses of Congress, which shall be delivered to the folding-rooms of said Houses and distributed or delivered ready for distribution to Senators, Members, and Delegates upon their order."

SEC. 63. Strike out "He shall keep the document account of members of Congress and Departments, and on request of any Senator, Representative, or Delegate shall promptly furnish a statement of documents standing to his credit," and read: "When desired, all orders for the distribution of documents by Senators, Representatives, or Delegates, who may so request, and orders from Departments shall be sent to the superintendent of documents on franked or other labels or in lists."

"Exchanges of documents among members of Congress shall, upon their request, be made by the superintendent of documents, or by the superintendents of the folding-rooms of the respective Houses; and accounts of such exchanges shall be kept by them."

SEC. 70. At close: [Surplus documents] shall be distributed by him, "first to public and school libraries for the purpose of completing broken sets; second, to public and school libraries that have not been supplied with any portion of such sets; and, third, to other parties, which persons and libraries shall be named to him by Senators, Representatives, and Delegates in Congress; and in this distribution the superintendent of documents shall see that, as far as possible, an equal allowance is made to each member of Congress."

SEC. 75. At close, to read: "All reports or documents to be distributed for Senators, Representatives and Delegates shall be folded and distributed from the folding-rooms, unless otherwise ordered."

SEC. 77. Copies ordered printed are increased, in publications specified, to the following numbers:

Naval observatory: Astronomical appendixes, 1200.

— Meteorological and magnetic observations, 1000.

Coast Survey Report, part 1, 1500.

Fish Commission Bulletin, 5000.

Revised Statutes and Supplement of 1891: "As many volumes as may be needed for distribution to designated depositories, State and Territorial libraries, and to United States courts not already supplied, and for sale by his office at the cost thereof."

Pamphlet Laws: "And to the superintendent of documents five hundred copies for distribution to State and Territorial libraries and to designated depositories."

Statutes at Large: "And the Public Printer shall deliver five hundred copies of the Statutes at Large to the superintendent of documents for distribution to State and Territorial libraries and to designated depositories."

Eulogies, 8000.

SEC. 80. The charts published by the Coast and Geodetic Survey shall be sold at cost of paper and printing as nearly as practicable; and there shall be no free distribution of such charts except to the departments and officers of the United States requiring them for public use; and a number of copies of each sheet, not to exceed three hundred, to be presented to such foreign governments, libraries and scientific associations and institutions of learning as the Secretary of the Treasury may direct; but on the order of Senators, Representatives and Delegates, not to exceed ten copies to each may be distributed through the Superintendent of the Coast and Geodetic Survey.

SEC. 90. No printing or binding shall be done at the Government Printing Office unless authorized by law. Binding for the Departments of the Government shall be done in plain sheep or cloth, except that record and account books may be bound in Russia leather, sheep fleshers and skivers when authorized by the head of a Department: Provided, The libraries of the several Departments, the library of Congress and of the Naval Observatory may have books for the exclusive use of said libraries bound in half Turkey.

SEC. 91. All printing, binding and blank-books for the Senate or House of Representatives, and for the Executive and Judicial Departments, shall be done at the Government Printing Office, except in cases otherwise provided by law.

SEC. 94. At close, to read: "The Secretary of Agriculture may print such number of copies of the monthly crop report, and of other reports and bulletins containing not to exceed one hundred octavo pages, as he shall deem requisite; and this provision shall apply to the maps, charts, bulletins, and minor reports of the Weather Bureau, which shall be printed in such numbers as the Secretary of Agriculture may deem for the best interests of the Government."

SEC. 98. New: "Heads of departments are authorized to exchange surplus documents for such other documents and books as may be required by them, when the same can be done to the advantage of the public service."

SEC. 103. All future orders or requisitions for printing or binding shall be governed by the provisions of this act; and all printing, binding, and other work required for the Senate and House of Representatives, or the committees and officers thereof, together with the material necessary to such work, shall be furnished by the Public Printer on requisition of the Secretary of the Senate and the Clerk of the House of Representatives: Provided, that each Senator and Representative shall be entitled to the binding in half morocco, or material no more expensive, of but one copy of each public document to which he may be entitled, an account of which, with each Senator and Representative, shall be kept by the Secretary and Clerk, respectively: And provided further, that in printing preliminary reports and other papers for the use of committees no more than fifty copies shall be ordered unless expressly authorized by the Committee on Printing of each House, respectively. No Government publications shall be delivered to officers and employees of Congress except for the use of members thereof unless authorized by this act.

The bill now goes to the House as a Senate bill for action there, and, despite the defeat of the original measure, has good chances of success. How soon it will receive consideration cannot yet be stated with any certainty.

A NICE QUESTION ABOUT SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS.

From the Critic.

A CURIOUS question has come up through the publication of Gen. Butler's book. The Library Trustees in Butler's city, Lowell, desired to secure a copy for public circulation, but the publishers immediately forbade their using the work, and moreover threatened them with legal prosecution if they disobeyed the command. Thereat a clergyman of Lowell presented his copy of "Butler's Book" to the library and said, "Do with it as you choose." Now the question arises, What can they do under the law? By the terms of sale in the publishers' preface, subscribers are forbidden to re-sell the book or to allow its use outside of their household, the ownership reverting to the publishers if this agreement is broken. In the same agreement the publishers guarantee subscribers that if the book is ever sold at cut rates by any one, they will refund subscribers the difference in price. Gen. Butler has written a letter to the publishers and declares that he will stand by them in this matter, but several members of other book-dealing firms have intimated that they are not at all scared by these new rules and stipulations. They maintain that a man has a perfect right to sell whatever he buys. The Grant subscription book, it may be added, was placed in the Lowell Library and publicly used.

THE METHODIST BOOK CONCERN.

THE Book Committee of the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church concluded its annual session on the 11th inst. It was reported that the sales in 1891 and the profits were unprecedentedly large. At the New York house the sales for the year amounted to $1,061,076.38, upon which the net profits were $133,412.68. The agents of the Cincinnati house reported sales, $1,141,038.02, and profits of $171,073.13. The total net profits of the two houses amounting to the sum of $304,485.81, the Book Committee declared a dividend of $125,000 out of the same, to be distributed among the annual conferences, to be applied to the support and relief of superannuated preachers and of the widows and orphans of the deceased preachers.

The net capital of the Methodist Book Concern, as represented in the two publishing houses, is as follows: New York City, $2,000,618.26; Cincinnati, $1,130,337.83; total, $3,130,956.09.

WHY W. D. TICKNOR BECAME A PUBLISHER.

William W. Ball, in the Boston Herald.

"SPEAKING of the Louisiana Lottery," remarked the nonogenarian, "recalls to my mind the fact that the publishing house of Ticknor & Co., of this city, owes its existence almost directly to conscientious scruples on the part of its founder, Mr. William D. Ticknor, with regard to the sale of lottery tickets."

There was a general interest apparent at the close of the veteran's remark, and each listener settled down more easily in his chair to hear the continuation.

"Tell us all about it," was the exclamation on all hands.

"Well, you see, when Mr. Ticknor, as a young man, came to Boston from New Hampshire, something over 60 years ago, he entered the office of his uncle, Benjamin Ticknor, who then carried on the business of a banker and broker. At that time the sale of lottery tickets made up an indispensable and profitable part of the broker's business; the sale of the tickets was legitimate, for lotteries were carried on under the laws of the commonwealth.

"On the decease of his uncle, young Ticknor succeeded to the business; but, as he had about that time been converted to the Baptist faith, through the influence of Rev. Howard Malcom, and had, moreover, conscientious scruples in the matter of lotteries carried on for any purpose whatever, he determined to give up his business rather than do violence to his conscience, and he accepted, temporarily, a responsible position in the old Columbian Bank, while awaiting the opportunity for embarkation in a new enterprise.

"Not long after this the old publishing firm of Carter & Hendee, then doing business in the 'old corner bookstore,' determined to give up their retail trade and general publishing business, and negotiations were opened with Mr. Ticknor for the purchase by him of this part of their business. The matter came to a happy termination, and the new firm was announced as Ticknor & Allen, in 1832. In the course of a couple of years Mr. Allen retired and Mr. Ticknor carried on the business individually, until he took into the concern Mr. James T. Fields some fifteen years later.

"The late Rev. Dr. William Hague, for years the pastor of the Baptist church in Federal Street, was a warm personal friend as well as the pastor of Mr. Ticknor, and he was consulted in reference to the step which his parishioner was about to take. If you will throw your eyes over Dr. Hague's 'Life Notes, or, fifty years' outlook,' published by Lee & Shepard, you will find he tells the story as follows:

"Not far from 40 years ago [this was written about 20 years since], at 6 o'clock of a sunny morning, as I opened my front door, Mr. Ticknor had just reached the steps, and hailed me, saying: 'I knew that you were in the way of pedestrianizing an hour before breakfast, and I have come to waylay you for a walk and talk in regard to a question of personal interest now under consideration.' He was then connected with a bank, and was, at the same time, our parochial treasurer, while I was ministering to the church in Federal Street. A proposal to leave the bank, and find in the old bookstore his field of work for the future, involved all the questioning of that early hour. 'In the end,' I said,

"regarded from my point of view, there is no call for protracted deliberation. All your antecedents, every distinguishing element of your personality, your readiness of address, every taste, trend and habitude that I have discerned, indicate an adaptiveness to the demands of that trade centre and a prophecy of success. As you ask for my opinion, I give it freely, glad that it is positive, confident as I am that you are being provisionally led to the fulfilment of your life aim."

"Thus you will see, gentlemen, that indirectly to the lottery, and, in a degree, directly to the advice of Dr. Hague, we are indebted for one of the most popular and prosperous publishing houses ever established in Boston."

OBITUARY.

DR. T. STERRY HUNT, the eminent chemist and mineralogist, died at the Park Avenue Hotel, New York, on February 12. Dr. Hunt's works hold a place of foremost authority in Europe as well as America. He was born in Norwich, Sept. 5, 1826, and was interred at his native place.

DR. WILHELM JUNKER, the well-known traveller and naturalist, died last week at St. Petersburg. He was a great friend of Gen. Gordon, and also of Stanley, to whom he gave valuable information while in Cairo in 1877, as to the position of Emin Pasha. He published an account of his travels in a book entitled "Travels in Africa." The work was translated by A. H. Keane.

SIR JAMES CAIRD, the well-known writer on agricultural subjects, died in London Feb. 1. He was born in Scotland in 1816. He was the author of "High Farming as the Best Substitute for Protection," "Food for the People," "The Landed Interest," and "India: the land and people." In 1869 he published a pamphlet on the Irish land question, and soon afterward received the order of the Companionship of the Bath. His son is the husband of Mona Caird, the authoress.

LIEUT.-COL. JAMES AUGUSTUS GRANT, of the Bengal Army, died in London on February 12. He was born in 1827. He was the author of "A Walk Across Africa," "Summary of the Speke and Grant Expedition" (in "The Journal of the Royal Geographical Society" for 1872), and of "The Botany of the Speke and Grant Expedition," forming the twenty-ninth volume of "The Transactions of the Linnean Society," 1872. He was gold medalist of the Royal Geographical Society, and received medals from Pope Pius IX. and King Victor Emmanuel.

THE REV. DR. CHARLES ELLIOTT, Professor of Hebrew at Lafayette College, died last week of acute rheumatism, superinduced by an attack of the grip. Dr. Elliott was born in Scotland in 1815, and was graduated at Lafayette in 1840. He was one of the most popular men in the Faculty. Dr. Elliott wrote frequently on Biblical topics, and his works have been published in this country, in England and in Germany. Among his latest works are "Inspiration," "Old Testament Prophecy," "Mosaic Authorship of the Pentateuch" and a "Treatise on the Sabbath." He had nearly completed a commentary on Isaiah, with special reference to its authorship.

BUSINESS NOTES.

NEW YORK CITY.—G. E. Stechert has removed to 810 Broadway, occupying the premises located between B. Westermann & Co. and the American Book Co.

PROVO, UTAH.—N. G. Chilberg, bookseller, has sold out.

SPRINGFIELD, MASS.—Browne & Brooks, booksellers, have had their stock damaged by fire.

TEMPLE, TEX.—M. W. Branch, bookseller, has sold out.

TIFFIN, O.—Parker & Paden, booksellers, have dissolved partnership.

VICTORIA, TEX.—J. C. Heaton, of the firm of J. C. Heaton & Bro., booksellers, of Cuero, Tex., and this city, is dead.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

HUBBARD BROS., Philadelphia, will issue as a subscription-book a "Life of Spurgeon," by Rev. Russell H. Conwell, of Philadelphia.

A GENTLEMAN residing in Guatemala has written to Mr. George P. Upton, of this city, requesting permission to translate "Upton's Standard Operas" into Spanish. Mr. Upton has complied with the request of his unknown admirer.

THE D. LOTHROP Co. have in press the third volume in the popular Peppers Series by Margaret Sidney, "Five Little Peppers Grown Up," and "The Kaleidoscope," a juvenile book consisting of thirteen stories by as many different authors, all about the same picture.

It is pleasant to chronicle the fact that an edition from new plates of the late Herman Melville's famous stories is now in progress. They are to be brought out by the United States Book Company under the thoroughly competent editorship of Mr. Arthur Stedman.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. have ready their first instalment of Easter booklets, all remarkably pretty specimens of typography and finish. In selecting Easter remembrances for friends, these little square booklets, that will fit into a good-sized envelope, are specially to be commended.

D. LOTHROP Co. announce "Stories Told for a Purpose," a book by Mrs. G. R. Alden, known to all child-readers as "Pansy;" and "My Lady Legend," by Dr. Segerstedt, a collection of charming fairy stories, translated by Mrs. Anna M. von Rydingsvård, the wife of the Swedish Baron von Proschwitz.

JAMES H. EARLE, Boston, will shortly publish a "Life of Spurgeon," by Rev. Dr. George C. Lorimer, a personal friend of the busy preacher. One of the portraits in the book will represent him as a very youthful minister, the other, by the kindness of Joseph Cook, will be a copy of a photograph selected by Dr. Cook for his own study.

M. L. HOLBROOK Co., 23 Clinton Place, N. Y. City, announce for immediate publication a work on the hygienic treatment of consumption, which has been in preparation many years, and which would have been published earlier if it had not been detained to await the verdict on Prof. Koch's merits. The book is written mainly for the patient.

A PRIZE, equal to $500, was recently offered by an English society for the best story on the evils of gambling, and resulted in the issue of "The Fall of the Staincliffes," by A. Colbeck, a very effective portrayal of the pernicious results of this widespread mania. Fleming H. Revell Company, New York and Chicago, secured the American rights for publication, and have now ready an American copyrighted edition.

J. W. BOUTON, 8 West 28th St., has ready an edition of Sterne's "Sentimental Journey," which forms the fifth volume of the Aldine Series; a new edition of "The Story of the Stick in All Ages and Lands," by Antony Réal, with an introductory letter by William Henry Hurlbert and ten illustrations by Alfred Thompson, and a new illustrated edition of Knight's "The Symbolical Language of Ancient Art and Mythology," with introduction, additions and notes, translated into English, and a new and complete index by Dr. Alexander Wilder, and 348 illustrations by A. L. Rawson.

G. P. PUTNAM'S SONS have in press for immediate publication "The Genesis of Art Forms," an essay in comparative æsthetics by George L. Raymond, and new issues in the Questions of the Day series, entitled "Money, Silver and Finance," by J. Howard Cowperthwait, and "The Question of Silver," by Louis R. Ehrich. They will also publish shortly "Methods of Industrial Remuneration," by David F. Schloss; "Pratt Portraits," studies of a New England family, by Anna Fuller; "Moods and Memories," poems by Madison Cawein, and "The Test Pronouncer," by W. H. P. Phye, a companion volume to "7000 Words Often Mispronounced," containing the identical list of words found in the larger work, arranged in groups of ten, without dicritical marks for convenience in recitations.

TERMS OF ADVERTISING.

Under the heading "Books Wanted," subscribers only are entitled to a free insertion of five lines for books out of print, exclusive of address (in any issue except special numbers), to an extent not exceeding 100 lines a year. If more than five lines are sent, the excess is at 10 cents per line, and amount should be enclosed. Bids for current books and such as may be easily had from the publishers, and repeated matter, as well as all advertisements from non-subscribers, must be paid for at the rate of 10 cents per line.

Under the heading "Books for Sale," the charge to subscribers and non-subscribers is 10 cents per line for each insertion. No deduction for repeated matter.

Under the heading "Situations Wanted," subscribers are entitled to one free insertion of five lines. For repeated matter and advertisements of non-subscribers the charge is 10 cents per line.

All other small advertisements will be charged at the uniform rate of 10 cents per line. Eight words may be reckoned to the line.

Parties with whom we have no accounts must pay in advance, otherwise no notice will be taken of their communications.

Parties desiring to receive answers to their advertisements through this office must either call for them or enclose postage stamps with their orders for the insertion of such advertisements. In all cases we must have the full address of advertisers as a guarantee of good faith.

Houses that are willing to deal only on a cash-on-delivery basis, will find it to their advantage to put after their firm-name the word [Cash].

WILL PUBLISH SATURDAY, MARCH 5:

A Golden Gossip.

Another Neighborhood Story. By MRS. A. D. T. WHITNEY, author of "The Gay-worthys," "Faith Gartney's Girlhood," etc. 12mo, in fancy binding, $1.50. Uniform with Mrs. Whitney's other books.

"A Golden Gossip" is a "neighborhood story" after the fashion of "Ascutney Street." In it are depicted certain characters and circumstances not uncommon in a country town, just sufficiently limited to itself to illustrate the result of that ill-directed instinct of human sympathy which takes to gossip for its outlet and satisfaction. Miss Elizabeth Haven believes in gossip, but it is upon the "golden" side and with the "golden" motive.

Equatorial America.

Describing a Visit to St. Thomas, Martinique, Barbadoes, and the Principal Capitals of South America. By Maturin M. Ballou, author of "Due West," "Due South," "Due North," "Under the Southern Cross," "The New Eldorado," "Aztec Land," etc. Crown 8vo, $1.50.

The Rationale of Mesmerism.

By A. P. SINNETT, author of "The Occult World," "Esoteric Buddhism," etc. 16mo, $1.25.

CONTENTS: Old and New Theories; Mesmeric Force; The Real Literature of Mesmerism; Side Lights on Mesmeric Phenomena; Curative Mesmerism; Anæsthetic Effects and Rigidity; The Transfer of Consciousness; Clairvoyance; Mesmeric Practice.

This book is not intended to guide investigators in the practice of the art so much as to present an interpretation of mesmeric phenomena, as the title indicates. Mr. Sinnett's previous books on occult subjects have shown so much ability and subtlety of thought that the present volume can hardly fail to reward the eager interest it awakens.

Roger Hunt.

A Novel. By CELIA P. WOOLLEY, author of "Rachel Armstrong" and "A Girl Graduate." 16mo, $1.25.

This story brings out in a striking way the possible gains and losses in a life of thorough selfishness—the gains and losses to those actuated by it, and its effect upon the character and experience of others. It is a story of love and marriage, which affords ample scope for the illustration of the methods and results of selfish seeking for happiness and ignoring of the higher and better way.

Speeches.

By HENRY CABOT LODGE, author of "George Washington" and "Daniel Webster," in the series of American Statesmen, and of "Studies in History." 8vo, $1.00.

CONTENTS: The Independent Spirit of the Puritans; The Uses and Responsibilities of Leisure; The Blue and the Gray; The Puritans; Harvard College in Politics; The Day We Celebrate (Dec. 22, 1888); International Copyright; The Civilization of the Public School; Massachusetts.

4 Park Street, Boston; 11 East 17th Street, New York.

SUCCESSFUL NEW BOOKS.

4th
Thousand

Sir Edwin Arnold's Japanica.

Fully illustrated by ROBERT BLUM. Large 8vo, $3.00.

"Sir Edwin Arnold, in these brilliantly picturesque chapters, shows himself just the man to interpret Japan. Perhaps no book has ever been written on Japan so full of color and word-picture, so eloquent as this."—The Critic.

2d
Edition

Capt. Bourke's on the Border with Crook.

Illustrated. 8vo, $3.50.

"Captain Bourke has an interesting story to tell, and he tells it in an interesting way. His book is a splendid tribute to Crook. It will long hold its place as one of the most absorbing narratives of Indian warfare ever written."—Philadelphia Times.

5th
Edition

Mrs. Earle's Sabbath in Puritan New England.

12mo, $1.25.

"It is interesting, entertaining and instructive. In the midst of so much that is of interest it is difficult to select any one thing for special mention."—The Evangelist.

2d
Edition

Elizabeth Stuart Phelps' Life of Her Father, Austin Phelps.

Illustrated. 8vo, $2.00.

"Mrs. Ward has added one more to the scanty collection of almost faultless biographies. It reads like an exquisite poem, and is one of the few books that we wish were longer."—DR. THEODORE L. CUYLER, in the Evangelist.

4th
Edition

Dr. Charles A. Stoddard's Across Russia.

Illustrated. 12mo, $1.50.

"In a handsome volume Mr. Stoddard tells us pleasantly of the many things he saw in a leisurely trip through the Czar's Dominions. The results of his observations are set down in an attractive manner."—Philadelphia Press.

10th
Edition

Richard Harding Davis' Gallegher and Other Stories.

12mo, cloth, $1.00; paper, 50 cents.

"It is a pleasure to turn to so crisply written and so fresh and entertaining stories. There is not one of the ten that is not worth a dozen ordinary three-volume novels."—London Academy.

17th
Thousand

Eugene Field's Western Tales and Verse.

A LITTLE BOOK OF WESTERN VERSE. A LITTLE BOOK OF PROFITABLE TALES. Each, 16mo, gilt top, uncut edges, $1.25.

"The verses are remarkable for their range and versatility; they are humorous, pathetic, gay, rollicking, sentimental. There are pieces of Western dialect equal to Bret Harte's. The 'Tales' are abounding in original fancies and felicities of expression."—Boston Commonwealth.

Cassell Publishing Company's New Books.

A New and Important Book of Travel

THROUGH HITHERTO ALMOST UNKNOWN REGIONS.

ACROSS THIBET.

By GABRIEL BONVALOT,

Author of "Through the Heart of Asia."

Translated from the French by C. B. Pitman. With one hundred and six illustrations, many of them full-page, from photographs taken by Prince Henry of Orleans, and a large route map in colors.

One Elegant Octavo Volume, Extra Cloth, Gilt Top, $3.50.

"Mr. Gabriel Bonvalot has already achieved a high reputation as a Central Asian explorer. 'Across Thibet' is thus recommended alike by the character and literary skill of the explorer, and by the interest and novelty of the regions explored by him. . . . The copious illustrations due to Prince Henry's camera are full of interest, and the translation is excellently done."—London Times.

RECOLLECTIONS AND LETTERS

—OF—

ERNEST RENAN,

Author of "The Life of Christ," etc. Translated from the French by Isabel F. Hapgood.

One Volume, 12mo, Extra Cloth, Gilt Top, $1.50.

It is unnecessary to urge the importance of a work from the pen of M. Renan. The present volume is one of uncommon interest, both from the character of its contents and from the fact that it is, without doubt, the author's final collection of personal reminiscences. The book loses nothing in its translation by Miss Isabel F. Hapgood, so widely known for her own rare literary gifts.

ROSE AND NINETTE.

A Story of the Morals and Manners of the Day. By ALPHONSE DAUDET. Translated from the French by Mary J. Serrano, translator of "Marie Bashkirtseff," "The Journal of a Young Artist," etc. 1 vol., 12mo, cloth, 75 cents; paper, 50 cents.

M. Daudet regards this story as the supreme effort of his life. It deals with the subject of divorce, and is written with a power that indicates the author's deep feeling on this leading social problem. Simple in plot, free from any hint of the vulgarly sensational, every page glows with the touch of the true literary artist.

THE BOOK OF PITY AND OF DEATH.

A Collection of Stories by PIERRE LOTI.

Translated from the French by T. P. O'Connor, M.P., author of "Parnell and the Irish Movement," etc., etc. 1 vol., 12mo, cloth, 75 cents; paper, 50 cents.

Every one who admires literary style, every one who enjoys good stories, will hail with delight this volume of pathetic and touching tales.

"The Mediterranean Shores of America;"

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

ITS CLIMATIC, PHYSICAL AND METEOROLOGICAL CONDITIONS.

By. P. C. REMONDINO, M.D. (Jefferson),

Member of the American Medical Association, and of the State Board of Health of California, Vice-President of the California State Medical Society, and of the Southern California Medical Society, etc., etc.

In one handsomely printed octavo volume of 175 pages, with 45 appropriate illustrations, and two finely executed maps of the region showing Altitude, Ocean Currents, etc. Extra cloth, $1.25 net; paper edition, 75 cents net.

As a climatological treatise on "OUR ITALY"—a name so felicitously given this charming region by Charles Dudley Warner—this is a truly valuable and useful handbook for the constantly increasing number of individuals who are seeking accurate and interesting information upon this world-famous resort.

BY THE SAME AUTHOR.

A POPULAR EDITION

OF THE

HISTORY OF CIRCUMCISION:

FROM THE EARLIEST TIMES TO THE PRESENT.

Moral and Physical Reasons for Its Performance.

WITH A

HISTORY OF EUNUCHISM, HERMAPHRODISM, ETC., AS OBSERVED AMONG ALL RACES AND NATIONS; ALSO A DESCRIPTION OF THE DIFFERENT OPERATIVE METHODS OF MODERN SURGERY PRACTISED UPON THE PREPUCE.

By P. C. REMONDINO, M.D. (Jefferson).

In one 12mo volume of over 350 pages, bound in extra Paper Cover, 50 cents, net; Physician's Edition, bound in extra Dark-blue Cloth, $1.25, net.

The volume is illustrated with two rare fine wood-engravings showing the two principal modes of Circumcision in ancient times.

 This work is peculiarly important and timely, as the Jewish question is being thoroughly discussed in the "Forum" and other periodicals. The ultimate results of the present persecutions and exodus in Russia will materially affect the populations of the United States and England. Read this book and learn the physical and racial exemptions to disease the Jewish race enjoys, and why that in the vital scale they are superior to other races.

CONSUMPTION!

How to Prevent It and How to Live with It.

ITS NATURE, CAUSES, PREVENTION, AND THE MODE OF LIFE, CLIMATE, EXERCISE, FOOD AND CLOTHING, NECESSARY FOR ITS CURE.

By N. S. DAVIS, Jr., A.M., M.D.,

Professor of Principles and Practice of Medicine in Chicago Medical College, etc., etc.

A plain, practical treatise, thoroughly readable and scientifically accurate. 12mo, 143 pages, extra cloth, 75 cents net.

THE ST. LOUIS WEEKLY MEDICAL REVIEW says: "He is very thorough in his discussion of the subject, and the practical hints which he gives are of real worth and value. His directions are given in such a manner as to make life enjoyable to a consumptive patient and not a burden, as is too frequently the case."

A NEW BOOK ON WAGNER.

Wagner as I Knew Him.

By FERDINAND PRAEGER. Crown 8vo, gilt top, $1.50. (On Feb. 16.)

 This book, which is the outcome of Dr. Praeger's life-long intimacy with Wagner, is a remarkably clear, sympathetic and unprejudiced history of the man and the composer, especially valuable for its frank discussion of episodes in his life usually treated with hesitation by his biographers. Dr. Praeger had the privilege of reading Wagner's autobiography in manuscript, and thus was able to verify his observations by Wagner's own statements.

MR. W. J. HENDERSON'S NEW BOOK.

Preludes and Studies.

Musical Themes of the Day. By W. J. HENDERSON, author of "The Story of Music." 12mo, cloth extra, gilt top, $1.25.

"The questions which he handles are all living. Even the purely historical lectures which he has grouped together under the general head of 'The Evolution of Piano Music' are informed with freshness and contemporaneous interest by the manner which he has chosen for their treatment. . . . The concluding chapter of the book is an essay designed to win appreciation for Schumann, . . . and is the gem of the book both in thought and expression."—N. Y. Tribune.

EDWARD BRANDUS & CO., 30 Broad Street, New York.

Walter Graham, Statesman.

"The anonymous author evidently has faith enough in our people and institutions to believe that purity, honesty and courageous adherence to principle and conviction are not a bar to political preferment. His hero is an illustration of this; and is skilfully carried out. In fact the development of Graham's character from boyhood, when he knocked another boy down for bullying a little negro lad, through the heroic days of battle and suffering during the war, and the final enjoyment of honor and fame in Congress, is strongly and consistently done. We know of no work that gives a better idea of the sentiments prevalent among the people of the North, especially in our rural districts, of the growth of the abolition sentiment, and of the many bits of un-written history and currents of unrecorded feeling and influence, which were the fruitful soil out of which grew those more potent, though scarcely more important events that alone are deemed worthy of being chronicled in our formal 'histories.' Walter Graham, Statesman ought to become one of the most popular books."—Christian Culture.
